142 Article Warrant Is Longest In Town History; 4% Sought For Employees

The town manager proposed a 4% pay increase for town employees on Monday as the 1971 Annual Town Meeting Warrant closed with 142 articles but the School Committee has not yet settled its negotiations with the teachers' union and has not inserted a final budget figure.

Earlier the School Committee had rejected the Selectmen's request that teacher raises be inserted in a separate Warrant article, saying that such a move would undermine the Committee's fiscal autonomy and violate the trust and responsibility given the School Committee by the legislature.

The School Budget, including teacher raises, is not subject to change by town meeting action. Under state law the town meeting must appropriate all the money requested by the School Committee in its budget.

Two articles aimed at bringing public pressure on the School Committee to conform to the way the rest of the town is run were inserted by Selectman John Billafer.

One article calls for a similar 4% increase for teachers and for equal salaries for the town manager and superintendent of schools. The other would require the School Committee to end its collective bargaining with teachers no later than the closing date for the warrant.

In a surprise move, Billafer also presented two articles which would change the nature of the Finance Committee by requiring all Finance Committee members to be elected town meeting members.

Another article would change the appointing authority. Finance Committee members are now made up of one member from each precinct. Billafer's article would have the members appointed by a committee of three, the moderator, the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and the precinct chairman of the precinct the man is to represent on the Finance Committee.

Such changes would need approval of the state legislature in the form of amendments to the Town Manager Act.

The Warrant contains 142 articles and is the longest in the town's history. Town meeting members elected on March 6 will begin acting on the articles on Monday, March 15.

The Permanent Town Building Committee has submitted an article for plans for construction of an addition at the Peirce School. This is one of three building programs which the committee started after last March's town meeting.

Another article would permit clubs and veterans groups to petition the Legislature to put Item E allowing them to serve liquor on the ballot.

In addition to the manager's article for 4% for town employees there are articles seeking 9%, $50 for each five years' service, $20 for standby duty, 10% differentials for work between 3 p.m. and 8 a.m., as well as increased personal days with pay and vacations.

Changes in Police pay include 7% for men classified as inspector; a $10,200 maximum for patrolmen with 16% differential between ranks; 1% longevity for each five years' service. The Town Meeting Assn. was told last week this is requested because the men with seniority working days don't get the advantage of paid day court time and paid details.

An increase of 12% is sought for the Fire Dept. with the maximum salary being 16.5% over the first step and 1% for longevity.

The manager submitted an article to remove major department heads from the classification plan. He says that he feels these people should receive raises based on merit.

He has also proposed the creation of a redevelopment board and the position of redevelopment planner.

The manager is also proposing a consolidation of departments under a new director, Human Resources. He has another article to have the administrative assistant called the Asst. Town Manager at a salary of $12,000.

Several of the articles have to do with reclassification of positions, such as the public health nurse, gardener and motor equipment operator and relocating some employees, such as the head of the circulation department of the library.

One article would permit the town to hire temporary summer laborers at less pay than full time help.

Ten Year Plan

Redevelopment In Center Is Hope Of Planning Department

Redevelopment in Arlington Center is the hope of the Dept. of Planning and Community Development under a 10 year plan for the future.

Director of Planning and Development Leo Young has discussed the matter with the Board of Selectmen, the Town Meeting Association and hopes to talk with other groups prior to any action at Town Meeting.

According to Young there are basically three ways to start a Redevelopment Program in a community; through the Housing Authority; creation of a separate redevelopment authority; and the creation of a board within the town with power of redevelopment, but serving as a part of town government.

The establishment of such a redevelopment board requires special legislation. A warrant article under home rule would have to be passed by town meeting and a bill would have to be submitted to the legislature.

The Board, if established, would be the first of its kind in the Commonwealth. It would be appointed by the Town Manager, subject to the approval of the Board of Selectmen and would be composed of five persons.

Such a board would use the Dept. of Planning and Community Development as its operating agency.

A redevelopment board would have all the powers of a redevelopment authority under the guidance of the town manager, selectmen and town meeting.

If approved by the town meeting and the legislature one new position would have to be created to prepare preliminary plans for Arlington Center. The Board and the departments would then work with the private developer to acquire land, build, relocate families and business and assist the developer.

Young emphasized, "We won't dislocate any families or business until such time as redevelopment plans are approved, a developer selected and building plans complete."

A Redevelopment Board would work closely with the Housing Authority in connection with any new housing proposed.

Young said, "I estimate that this will be a 10 year program that will probably remove in stages, 30 to 50 million dollars worth of assessed value and replace it with, at least, $300,000,000 worth of assessed value."

Such a redevelopment would be composed of retail stores, department and specialty stores with offices for branches of major companies, professional offices, with hopefully new state and possibly federal buildings. In addition there would be a new safety building which would house police and fire facilities.

Finally, there would be a mixture of various types of housing ranging from high rise luxury apartment type to moderate income apartments.

Young concluded by saying that a Redevelopment Board is the first step in an overall program.

State DPW Allots $42,800 Funds For Arlington Streets

The Mass. Dept. of Public Works has authorized $42,800 to be met in matching local and county funds for road work in Arlington in 1971.

The funds were part of $3,028,900 allotted to Middlesex County by the state, in Chapter 90 funds.

The local work would be on Appleton, Bow and Spring streets and Massachusetts ave. The state contribution would be $42,800 with $21,400 each from the town and county.

Five Injured

Police Cruiser, Auto Collide

Two Arlington policemen were among five persons injured in a two-car collision early Sunday morning.

The accident occurred at 3:41 a.m. on Massachusetts ave. near St. John's Church, North Cambridge.

In the police station wagon were the driver, Ferdinand Carangelo of Dorchester, and officer Bruce Price of Woburn.

Their car was proceeding west on Mass. ave. at Dover st. when it was in collision with a car operated by Jay D. Miller of Elkhart, Ind. His passengers were Jennifer Martin of Cambridge and Barbara Mauro of Burlington.

The Arlington officers were taken by police to Symmes Hospital. Carangelo was treated for injuries to his right leg and head. Price received injuries to his right side and right leg.

The occupants of the other car were treated at Cambridge City Hospital: Miller for head, arm and shoulder injuries; Miss Martin for back and head injuries; and Miss Mauro for head and leg injuries.

Police Chief Fred Lucarelli explained that the Arlington cruiser was in Cambridge because the officers had been following a car they wanted to stop to question the driver about possible breaking and entering.

According to police records, a broken window had been reported 40 minutes earlier at Arlington Tailoring and the owner had inspected the store and reported that entry had not been gained.

Shortly before 3:40 a.m., Chief Lucarelli said Officers Carangelo and Price were parked opposite Arrow Pontiac on Mass. ave. When they noticed a car with out of state license plates traveling toward Cambridge with clothes hanging in the window.

They followed it, planning to stop it to see if the operator had any connection with the broken window at Arlington Tailoring, the Chief said.

The chief later said the car wasn't actually under suspicion, it was just that the officers wanted to check it out. He said they did not notify the Cambridge Police via the inter-city police radio network that they were entering Cambridge following a car, "because they had the car in sight and there was no question that they would have caught up with it."

When they got to St. John's Church in North Cambridge, they received a call to assist the ambulance on a call to Melrose st. They decided not to stop the suspected car they were following, and made a U-turn to return to Arlington.

According to the Chief, approximately one block from where they made the turn they were in collision with the other car.

The chief said that the ambulance was not needed at Melrose st. that Joseph Bengonzi, who later died at the hospital, preferred to go to the hospital in a police cruiser, and the ambulance was then sent to aid the injured police officers.

Both the police cruiser and the other car suffered severe front end damage and the Chief termed the cruiser a "total loss." A light pole was also knocked down at the scene of the head on crash.

About an hour and a half after the accident, the Arlington Tailoring store owner contacted police to report the $1800 in apparel had

Town Government, Town Meeting And How They Work

Arlington is governed by a five man Board of Selectmen who appoint a Town Manager to handle the day to day functions of town government.

The Selectmen are elected for three year terms and are a policy-making body and an appointing authority with the executive and administrative authority resting, for the most part, with the Town Manager. This authority comes from a special state law, the Arlington Town Manager Act.

The town meeting is the town's legislative body. It appropriates all money, enacts general by-laws and zoning by-laws, authorizes town purchase or sale of land, and establishes committees to look into things that may come before future town meetings.

The town meeting is made up of 252 town meeting members elected to three year terms, 12 members from each of the town's 21 precincts. Each precinct contains approximately 2,500 people.

The town meeting members meet at the Annual Town Meeting in March, to appropriate money and set the operating budget for the town for the year. (In the case of schools, however, the town meeting's authority is limited in that it is required by state law to appropriate the full amount requested in the School Committee budget.)

The agenda for town meeting is called the Warrant and it contains the Articles to be acted upon by the Town Meeting Members.

The finance Committee is a 22-member appointed board with one member from each precinct and one member at large. It reviews all articles concerning the appropriation of funds and makes recommendations for action to the town meeting members.

The Inaugural Snow Storm

I guess most of us have heard the Old Timers say "You folks don't have the snow storms that we had years ago," and maybe they are correct. The one that stands out in this writer's mind happened just nine years ago this week, January 19, 1961, to be exact, in Washington, D.C.

It was the day before John F. Kennedy was to be sworn in as our President, and about noon-time the white stuff started to fall. If ever they needed the Arlington Public Works Dept. to help in the snow removal, it was that day and night.

Now this was the real big social affair of the year, as thousands poured into the city. The Democratic Gala at the Armory, an invitation get-together with the ticket prices at $200 per couple, plus many other swanky gatherings, such as the Governor's reception, the Inaugural Concert with boxes seating five at a cost of $125.

Now it seemed that all means of transportation went home early, and cars just could not navigate in what was said to be the biggest traffic tie-up in the Capital's history. It caused long delays to guests at the various functions, and hundreds holding those precious and costly tickets never moved. Thousands who left from Massachusetts and other New England States never did arrive, as planes and trains were just not to be had.

About the last official act of President Eisenhower was to call out the Army and with their equipment worked all night, and by the time the parade started the streets were clean, and these men could easily be called the unsung heroes of the Inauguration.

At the Willard Hotel were many groups from way down South. Some had never seen snow before, and around 5 p.m. were very thrilled with what they were seeing, but as time marched on and the storm increased, and these beautifully gowned ladies grew a bit nervous. They kept waiting and waiting.

The writer saw a dignified senator give a $50 bill to a doorman to please get him a Taxi, but all the drivers were home watching T.V. and the ladies from the Bourbon and Mint Julep areas were not saying at midnight what they spoke five hours earlier, such as, "Ah have never seen snow before, and Ah think it is just beautiful." The language later sounded about what might have been said by the folks from the South during the Civil War.

The next day was bitterly cold and thousands with $25 seats on the many stands just gazed at them as they watched the parade in their nice warm rooms. So millions and millions of viewers all over the world watched the ceremonies the next day when the new President made the famous statement: "And so, my fellow Americans, Ask not what America will do for you—Ask what you can do for your country."

And he added, "My fellow citizens of the world: Ask not what America will do for you, but what together we can do for the freedom of man."

The young man never had a real chance to work out his dreams, and one of the saddest days in our history occurred a few short years later.

TO THE EDITOR:

There has been much said about arrangement between the Arlington School Committee and the Arlington Boys Club regarding the possibility of this club being used temporarily as a school annex.

To date the Directors of this Club have not received any proposal regarding this arrangement from the Arlington School Committee.

The Arlington Boys Club has a dedicated purpose, namely to offer our young people a healthy and pleasurable experience which will enhance their growth and development. It is our hope that we contribute to making our boys and girls better future citizens. Any proposals from the School Committee would have to be consistent with our goals and objectives.

Very truly yours,

TO THE EDITOR:

Your excellent publication provides an excellent service for the townspeople here in Arlington. You would be very much surprised to learn just how many people were unaware of the forthcoming Town Meeting Member election in March.

Many were astounded to discover that some will be running for "re-election" in precincts which never before existed.

The undersigned was unaware of still another inconsistency relative to all of this - what about the man who last year was elected to serve a three year term as a Town Meeting Member? What happens to him?

Many candidates for major town office are unhappy with the situation as it now stands and at least two that I know are considering with their attorneys in an attempt to have the situation rectified.

Therefore, my proposed candidacy for Moderator is no longer viable, and the undersigned is NOT a candidate for town office.

However, please allow me to thank the countless people who contacted me relative to a possible candidacy and those who wished to discuss the inadequacies of allowing candidates to run for election with preferential ballot treatment when, in fact, the precinct they wish to represent has either been changed or worse, never existed at all.

I am positive the major candidates will soon be speaking out on this situation and I would urge those of you concerned about all of this contact these candidates.

All of us should remember that it is the Town Meeting Members who determine our tax rate. Perhaps no other town governmental body is as important as this.

Very truly yours,
Robert W. Porteus
Former Town Meeting Member

OPEN LETTER to the Voters of Arlington

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of selectman in the town of Arlington, Mass. I am in the construction business.

I was in Arlington, Virginia a few years back. I was asked, "Where do you come from, sir?" I answered this way: "I am from Arlington, Massachusetts, a town 12 miles from Boston, Massachusetts, the city of my birth." Being practically a newcomer to politics, politics in itself is a challenge, and I accept the challenge.

Please do not misconstrue my purpose or objective in this now. The other candidates have done their job well and I hope all have fulfilled their duties.

I am looking for a vacant seat, and I intend to win that seat. "Win with Vin." I look forward to a good clean race for all the candidates and may the best men win. The final result rests with the voters of Arlington.

My chief reason for entering is my family.

There is my wife Ethel, she is a fine wife and mother and my four sons, namely Ronald, James, Vincent and Michael, and I am extremely proud of them.

Respectfully yours,
Vincent R. Kearns
10 Lawrence lane

TO THE EDITOR:

The MAT column of January 14 commented that Selectmen Abbott and Greeley "showing a remarkable lack of understanding" voted against the Town Manager's proposed warrant articles that asked for an appropriation for the hiring of a new Redevelopment Planner. I will not attempt to guess the reasons for your comment, but I'm afraid that the lack of understanding is on your part.

As I thought you were aware, since you sat there at the Selectmen's Meeting and appeared to be listening, the discussion prior to this vote involved the question of whether or not the hiring of a NEW individual for Leo Young's Department of Planning and Community Development was justified in this year of necessary budget austerity. Your MAT comment notwithstanding, all of the members of the Board have expressed the view that Arlington does have need of commercial area redevelopment, and I fully support the creation of a redevelopment authority to help carry this out.

However, no justification has as yet been presented for the creation of a new position and the hiring of a new individual to be added at this time to the Town's payroll and to be placed in a Department which itself was only created two years ago to move in the area of planning and development, and whose budget has already grown some 65 percent to the present year.

I see no justification for increasing the appropriation for this Department another 35 percent this year with the hiring of additional staff. There is no reason why Young cannot adequately serve the redevelopment function during this initial planning year of 1971, particularly in view of the fact that a Boston law firm, not inexpensive, has been engaged to plan and draft the appropriate redevelopment set-up for Arlington.

Rest assured that I will continue to examine proposals that are put forth to see if they make sense at the time and in the form in which they are submitted.

Sincerely,
William S. Abbott

TO THE EDITOR:

The National commander of the American Legion is issuing the following: "To make January 24th to the 31st, 1971, Prisoner of War Letter Writing Week."

I have notified the Board of Selectmen and asked them to proclaim that week Letter Writing Week in Arlington. I have also notified the 23 churches to pray for these Prisoners of War. I have asked the Superintendent of Schools, private and parochial schools to have their student bodies participate in this letter writing campaign.

I am now requesting your support, that through your newspaper, to publicize to the general public of Arlington, the purpose of this campaign. The plight of the P.O.W.'s should be of the utmost concern of each and every citizen.

The address to send these letters, requesting the release and humane treatment of P.O.W.'s is as follows:

That Man About Town

By MAT

A Column of Opinion and Comment

With all the candidates entering the Selectmen's race, Arthur Saul will have a tough fight on his hands. If all who have taken out papers file them in proper form and are placed on the ballot, there will be six candidates for the one seat. That will certainly split the vote. What effect it will have is something to be seen.

There are now six candidates for the three School Committee spots and we hear there may be at least one more to come. The School Committee certainly needs help. Let's hope we can look forward to seeing some people elected who are able to sort out and identify the significant major policy problems facing that committee in the 1970's. We might even get some people who don't believe a School Committee's fiscal autonomy is a blank check to spend without regard for the town meeting or the taxpayer. The save a dime, spend a dollar attitude has been the rule for far too long.

Before we leave the School Committee, let's look at what goes on behind the scenes.

This year the Committee was called upon by both the Finance Committee and the Selectmen to stand firm on their position of zero raises. Several times the Committee has voted "for the record" not to give any raises to the school teachers this year.

But when they went "off the record" it was a different story. When the Selectmen said "O.K. you guys, just what are you really going to do this year on raises?" the Committee members jumped around, huffing and puffing about "of course having to compromise."

Well, the town manager and the Selectmen are at a disadvantage. They have to have their articles on pay raises ready for the closing of the Warrant in January. The School Committee if it is true to form will pretend it's not going to give any raises and then, after the election and after town meeting has begun will slip in a supplementary budget to cover raises.

And, because of the fiscal autonomy enjoyed by the School Committee under state law, the town meeting has to pay the bill.

Well, we know the Selectmen had the votes to stand by the Finance Committee's request of no raises this year. But after seeing the School Committee members toss the issue around like a stick of dynamite with the fuse lit, the Selectmen and the Manager had to go along with a 4% cost-of-living raise to be sure the town employees didn't get overlooked while the teachers got another big red apple.

Selectman Chairman Arthur Saul had a quick response to the 10 registered voter article that would require Arlington vendors of bottled beverages to collect a 3¢ deposit and pay a refund on all bottles returned. "I'll vote for that," he said, adding that if he bought all his bottles in Cambridge and returned them in Arlington, he'd make out handily.

It's an anti-pollution idea, but we don't think it'll work on less than a state-wide basis.

BOX SCORE: All Selectmen present. Housing Authority, Vahey absent.

Novels Of Georgette Heyer

THE CONQUEROR by Georgette Heyer, E.P. Dutton and Company, Inc., New York, 1966.

Georgette Heyer is an English writer of historical romances and detective fiction who is very popular in this country. Her recreation of the Regency period of English history is the background of most of her historical novels.

Among her non-Regency stories is the book called THE CONQUEROR. Meticulously researched, this book is a fictionalized biography of William the Conqueror written to mark the nine hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Hastings. It tells of his birth as an illegitimate son of a French nobleman, his youth, and his struggle to survive assassination, of his courting Matilda of Flanders, who at first refused him because of his birth.

The book portrays vividly the great leadership of this man, his military strategy so superior to that of his enemies, his great statesmanship and his gifts as a politician. The dramatic events leading to the Battle of Hastings, and the battle itself are magnificently portrayed. As Heyer authentically depicts the dress, speech and lives of the Normans and English of the eleventh century, the man and his age come alive.

DETECTION UNLIMITED by Georgette Heyer, E.P. Dutton and Company, Inc., New York, 1969.

In DETECTION UNLIMITED, Georgette Heyer turns to a contemporary mystery theme with her favorite detective, Chief Inspector Hemingway. The unexpected death of the very much disliked Sampson Warrenby involves the best people in Thornden.

Warrenby, who had lived in the area for only 15 years, was considered an upstart in the little English village which had its squire, vicar and family solicitor. He had a way of ruffling the feathers of everyone from his niece, Mavis, to sharp-tongued, limping Gavin Plennmeller.

In the course of unravelling the murder, all the local scandals hidden beneath the surface of the quiet village come to light, and make a great deal of extra work for Inspector Hemingway. He is most anxious to finish up the case because he has a fortnight's leave due. In this book, we have a prime example of Miss Heyer's delightful talent of blending humor and mystery. Isaac Anderson, a New York Times mystery story expert, remarked years ago that "there are not so many shudders in Georgette Heyer's murder mysteries as there are in those of some other writers, but there is a lot more fun."

CHARITY GIRL by Georgette Heyer, E.P. Dutton and Company, Inc., New York, 1970.

Miss Heyer's Regency novels have a large and devoted audience on both sides of the Atlantic. Her special blend of writing incorporates extreme authenticity of language, clothing, customs, castles and the like. She doesn't write about Regency England as history, she evokes the period. Like Jane Austen in her depiction of modes and manners, but treating these in a less satiric spirit, Georgette Heyer produces works both frothy and engrossing.

She writes unabashedly escapist books, always telling a lively story and imparting painlessly a great deal of historical background. In her latest tongue-in-cheek romance, CHARITY GIRL, the heroine is little orphaned Cherry, living a Cinderella type existence with her wicked aunt, Viscount Desmond, the hero, gallantly rescues Cherry from her dreadful relatives and places her under the protection of sensible and charming Henna Silverdale, who has always loved Desmond. When Cherry and Desmond disappear, everyone, including Cherry's suddenly appearing horrendous Father, thinks that Gretna Green is their destination, everyone that is, except Henna.

All ends well as Cherry finds an older man, and Desmond realizes that it is Henna whom he has always loved. Miss Heyer has once again transported us back to the early nineteenth century, and we have actually been a part of the elegant world of that time.

The incident was the second crash in which a 1970 model Arlington cruiser has been totaled. The other accident involved a parked police car on Ridge st. which was struck by another car.

The town manager told the Selectmen this week that he is awaiting a full report on the accident.

There was property damage and minor injury in other accidents in Arlington during the last week.

Drivers from Cambridge and Maine were involved in a collision on the Concord Turnpike last Monday when one car stopped to pick up a passenger. That morning there was another collision on the turnpike.

Last Tuesday morning the parked car of Judith M. Cannell, Rangeley road, was damaged when it was hit by a car that didn't stop.

There were no injuries in a Wednesday morning accident at Herbert road and Melrose street. Cars operated by John L. McLelland, 76 Thorndike st., and William Ricci of Somerville, collided.

Later in the morning cars operated by James F. Duffy of Winchester and Lawrence Cucelle of Waltham collided at 745 Mass. ave. Duffy was treated at Symmes for lacerations.

Two cars suffered property damage in an accident at 6:15 p.m. last Wednesday in a collision at Mass. ave. and Franklin st. Operators were Paul F. Hurer of Arizona and Robert C. Hughes Jr., 46 River st.

Police investigated another accident at 8:04 p.m. at Summer and Mill streets. Operators were Robert Bean of Lexington, who was going west on Summer, and Stephen J. Browne, 43 Epping st., who was going east.

Last Thursday cars operated by Eileen Orton of Bedford and Timothy A. Fitzgerald, 155 Scituate st., collided on Paul Revere rd.

Another accident happened on the Concord Turnpike last Thursday evening. Driver of one car was Ralph Botello of Medford. The other operator fled from the scene. Both vehicles suffered property damage.

A Water Dept. truck driven by Frank Pecorari, 208 Wollaston ave., was in collision with a car driven by Peter M. Blaisdell, 57 Edmund rd., Friday afternoon. No one was injured.

A car stolen from John and Virginia Bean, 223 Park ave., on Sunday night crashed into a tree at 31 Park circle shortly before midnight. The operator left the scene.

Other cars were stolen during the week from Brattle drive, Winter street and Mass. avenue, and Colonial Village drive. Tires and wheels were taken from a car at Colonial Village.

Spengler Breaks His Own Record

Harvard's distance star Tom Spengler has done it again. Finishing his one mile test against Northeastern in 4:10.0, he broke his own Farrell Track Facility record which he established last month against Boston College.

Spengler nipped sophomore teammate John Quirk at the finish in the most exciting race of the night. Quirk was timed in 4:10.1, also besting Spengler's old standard of 4:11.0. Harvard won the dual meet, 80-37, and established itself as odds-on favorite for another Greater Boston championship.

Robert D. Smith Declares Candidacy For Selectman

Robert D. Smith, of 45 Teel st., announced his candidacy for the office of Selectman today.

Smith, an attorney, is also a municipal consultant. He has held the position of municipal specialist at the Boston College Bureau of Public Affairs, administrative assistant to Boston City Councillor Gerald F. O'Leary, aide to the member from former Precinct 5, and served on the 1966 Town Manager Act Study Committee.

He was publicity chairman of the 1967 Arlington Cancer Crusade, and is a member of Council 109, Knights of Columbus.

In making his announcement Smith said, "I was born in Arlington, my wife Donna has lived here most of her life. We are both graduates of Arlington Public Schools. Recently, my son was born here. I hope to be able to bring him up in an Arlington that is similar to the one we now know."

"Preserving the essential character of Arlington is my overall objective in seeking the office of Selectman. Preserving Arlington cannot be achieved with a governmental attitude which rejects new ideas simply because they are new, without giving serious consideration to their value."

"On the contrary, it is the responsibility of the Selectmen, first, to appreciate that because change is taking place in the metropolitan area around us, a status quo attitude means backsliding," says Smith.

"Then, the leaders of community must determine and agree upon the direction we should move in order to avoid decay. In making this determination, the decision-makers must be in touch with the young people who will inherit the town. They must employ the abundant human resources in Arlington—good citizens with talent and a desire to participate—who have, until now, been wasted. Or even worse, smugly ignored."

"Finally, the selectmen, in close consultation with the Town Manager, must prepare and polish the administration of town government to do the job. All this must be done, and at the same time, the rise in property taxes must be beaten down, by both local economy and vigorous work at other levels of government to

Robert D. Smith

Volpe and Endicott Peabody. Presently, he is assistant legislative counsel to the Massachusetts Mayors' association.

He holds a A.B. in Political Science from Northeastern University and a J.D. from Boston University Law School. He has been an elected town meeting relieve the burden on the property tax payer.

"If all these things are not done, Arlington will deteriorate, or become so expensive to live in, that it will be changed to such an extent that very few of us would want to live here."

"I have prepared myself by obtaining the training and seeking the experience which will help me to be effective in achieving these goals. In addition, I pledge that the process of government in Arlington will be opened up to public scrutiny so that people may participate more fully in it."

Selectmen Ask $60,000 Cut In Library Budget

The Selectmen on Monday night asked the Town Manager to determine where $60,000 could be cut from the Robbins Library budget which was submitted by the manager at $499,500.

The Library trustees had originally requested $519,000 for 1971 but that was cut back by the manager. The Selectmen's request for an additional $60,000 cut would amount to cutting the 1970 budget by nearly $40,000 and would require a cut in services, the manager said.

The vote to ask for the cut was 3-2 with John Bilafer, John Bullock and Joseph Greeley voting in favor and William Abbott and Arthur Saul against.

Police Investigate Breaks, Thefts

Arlington police during the last week investigated a number of robberies and breaks, including a purse snatching and hold up.

Mrs. Marie Toolan, 199 Everett st., reported that on Friday she was walking on Everett street near University road when a black male assaulted her and stole her pocketbook containing cash and personal papers.

A hold-up was also reported at Dorothy's Laundry, 137A Mass. ave. Clerk Maureen O'Leary, 25 Teel st., reported that a man wearing a ski mask took $130 from her and ran towards Cambridge.

Over the weekend Arlington Tailoring, 888 Mass. ave. was entered and $1800 in clothing was stolen.

Last Monday breaking and entering was reported at Zwicker's Sport Shop. A wallet was stolen from Charlie's Do-Nut Shop, 1360 Mass. ave.

A house at 14 Dudley st. was broken into and a portable television was stolen.

On Tuesday police investigated a complaint that the American flag on the roof of the Post Office in East Arlington had been stolen.

A bike was taken from 122 Thorndike st. Clothing was taken from a car parked at 279 Broadway. Ski apparel and coins were taken from an apartment at Arizona Ranch.

On Wednesday police received a report that the coin box in a washing machine at 50 Grove st. was broken into. Thursday a house break at 23 Bacon st. in which clothing was stolen was reported.

Bayburn Cleaners was entered during Thursday night, but nothing was taken.

On Monday a break was reported at the Texaco station, 112 Mystic st.

Youth Concert By Philharmonic Sunday, Jan. 31

The Philharmonic Society of Arlington, under the direction of John A. Bovicchi, will present a Youth Concert on Sunday, Jan. 31 at 3 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

Joseph and Anthony Paratore, winners of the 1970 Young Artist Competition, will appear as soloists in Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals." Other works on the program are Verdi's Triumphant March from "Aida", Rossini's Overture "Il Signor Bruschino" and Surinach's "Ritmo Jondo."

This is a program of music suited to Children of all ages and parents alike. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

School Committee To Meet Tuesday

The School Committee will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Junior High Industrial Arts School.

On the agenda for old business are the report of arrangements for Junior High East pupils to go to the Boys' Club, decisions on the new administrative structure, and the budget.

Under the superintendent's report will be discussed the Park West program, outdoor camping, a report of the Junior High East District Committee and report on teacher negotiations.

Teachers Ask For Fact Finding

The School Committee has been notified by the Arlington Teachers' Assn. that the teachers have asked for fact finding by the state board of Arbitration and Conciliation.

A two-year contract was ratified in August. Present negotiations were opened under four sections of that contract.

furniture
event.
Our secrets
revealed.

Furniture stores are all alike, because they all want to sell you furniture. The similarity between them and us ends just about there.

Our winter furniture event is a good example of what we have in mind. There's no storewide reduction, because most things were less to start with. Which means you have to see all our displays to appreciate what we've reduced.

Only selected items in all our many settings. You won't be able to tell them from the rest because they're just like the rest. Only not so much.

Think of it as a sleight of hand. Our price is faster than the eye. We let you see how much more you get. How little you pay will fool you.

We're open from Monday through Saturday 9:30 to 5:30.
On Thursday and Friday 9:30 to 9:00.

Warrant

Another would change the by-law to require that all collective bargaining with town employees be completed by the end of town meeting.

Acceptance of a gift from Wilfert Brothers is presented in an article. The gift would be the Saunders House on Pleasant st. if building plans permit it to remain.

A study committee to review nonprofessionals not in the school classification plan is another article.

Several articles have to do with the environment. One calls for discontinuation of use of salts and chemicals, another by-law amendments and increased fines for disposal in bodies of water; licensing for the removal of trees more than 10 inches in diameter; and for a deposit refund to be paid by all bottle vendors.

Study committees for Spy Pond and on changing the name of the town to Menotomy are proposed in articles.

Promotion of Arlington is suggested in two articles. One seeks creation of a business and industry commission to promote industry and another seeks an appropriation for the advertisement of Arlington and its resources.

Several articles are aimed at changing Town Meeting procedures. One would not allow a member to speak and move the question. Another would delete the at-large voters.

Other articles would put a moratorium on building financed by taxes, propose a year-round school, petition the General Court to allow a related tax rate, and set a tax rate limit.

The 109 Town Government Study committee would be affected by two articles, one changing the membership and the other calling for their approval of proposed changes in town government.

A town owned skating rink is proposed in an article.

Appropriations for fire protection systems in schools and modifications in some school and fire station boilers due to new pollution standards. Another article would put smoke sensitivity devices in the schools and town hall.

Appropriations are sought by the B-Centennial Committee, Drug Study Committee, Conservation Commission, Historical Commission, Council on Aging, World War I Barracks.

A variety of other articles would rezoning property and allow street repairs, curbing and such work. Also in the warrant are articles for Christmas lighting.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

By Thomas F. Scanlan

WHERE TO BUY

When hunting for a house, you may find more than one you like. How does the househunter determine the right neighborhood for you?

Here are some questions to ask yourself when determining the right neighborhood for you:
What kind of social life do you like? Do you prefer group activities or comparative solitude? Will you be seeking friends among your neighbors? Consider whether your likes and interests are compatible with the atmosphere of the neighborhood.

Are you a person who likes a busy life with community activity? Then you might prefer a suburban community. Children almost always find playmates in suburban areas.

Do you prefer an individualistic way of life? Then an older house in an established community may probably prove best for you. These houses are also usually closer to theatres and museums.

Your Realtor has houses of all types and sizes in many different locations. Consult with him when you are ready to consider your next residence.

Basketball Team Loses To Rindge, Beats Brockton

Arlington ran into a red hot Rindge Tech team and dropped a close 70-59 contest at Rindge. Rindge shot better than 45% from the floor and a phenomenal 86% from the foul line. Arlington shot only 34% and 44% respectively.

Rindge held a 33-30 advantage at halftime but in the second half their 6'6" center got hot and poured in 16 points to give him a season high of 29.

Four AHS players scored in double figures. Dave Benoit 15, Scott Nelson 10, Bob Prince 13, and John Novillis 12 but this was not enough to offset the many errors which were committed. Arlington had several opportunities in the third and fourth quarters when they were only trailing by one point but they could not capitalize.

In what has to be their finest effort of the year the Arlington basketball team defeated Brockton 78-69. Brockton, the league leader, had been undefeated and the winner of the Newport Invitational tournament. Arlington jumped out to a quick lead but was caught at the end of the first period to lead only 17-16.

John Novillis and Bob Prince accounted for 48 points and 40 rebounds between them but it was the overall team effort that turned in the win. The defense was superb, stealing 19 passes and controlling the strong Brockton offense permitting them only outside shots.

Brockton shot 90% from the foul line and 46% from the floor which would normally win any game but Arlington getting mostly foul line or closer for their shots hit on 70% of their shots.

This week the team plays a strong Newton team Tuesday and on Friday the other team that is now tied for first place, Brookline. Brookline had previously defeated Arlington when the Indians shot only 24% from the floor.

Bruins Are 6-1 In Hockey Club

Bruins beat the Sabres 10-0 Saturday. Steve Maskell and John Malcomson led the scoring each turning in hat tricks. The McNamere brothers, John and Chuck, each had a goal along with Kenny Hirsch and Paul Lewis.

Flyers beat the Seals 10-2. Tom Bennett, Herlihy, and Fahey each had two goals with Anastas, Broulette, Manning and Mike Bennett also lighting the lamp for the Flyers. Buckley scored for the Seals.

Red Wings and Kings played to a 2-2 tie. Cummings and Jack Laurendeau scored for the Red Wings. Byrne and Barnaby scored for the Kings.

Arlington Hockey Club moved from Everett M.D.C. to Arlington for their Wednesday games last week. In the first game Allen Anderson led the Kings to a 2-1 victory over the Seals.

Red Wings beat the Canadiens 4-

Jaycees Join In Celebration

The Arlington Jaycees join their counterparts throughout Massachusetts and the nation this week in celebrating their 51st year of leadership training through community service.

Among the local chapter's recent projects was "Help Light the Way Sunday" where some $34,000 was raised in Massachusetts through the sale of Cape Cod fire starters made by young adults at the Nauset Workshop for the retarded in Orleans on the Cape. One-half of the proceeds went to the Workshop, and the other half to the Massachusetts Jayces foundation which benefits mental illness in Massachusetts.

The Arlington Jaycees recently conducted a "Hole-N-One Golf Tournament" and "Championship Fight Night" for the Arlington Drug Center. The local chapter, under the leadership of President Jack R. Donaldson, has set up six separate study committees to investigate all facets of the town, including law enforcement, taxation, health and safety and conservation.

There are 5,000 Jaycees from 126 communities in the state of Massachusetts. Arlington's membership stands at 60. The local chapter is constantly looking for new members.

They meet every second Tuesday of the month at Howard Johnson's Restaurant in Fresh Pond Circle at 8 p.m., and every fourth Tuesday of the month at the Edith M. Fox Branch Library in East Arlington, also at 8 p.m.

LT. GOVERNOR Donald Dwight enjoys a give and take session with Arlington High students during his visit to the school Tuesday. His visit was arranged by Robert Offenberger coordinator of the public school volunteer program. (Advocate Staff Photo by Mary Rosenfeld)

UPSET DECISION QUESTIONED!

After "Giving Away Weight" in a Taxpayers' Special tuneup bout on Oct. 19 - Jack Curran (shown on the right blocking a hard left prior to countering with his own left) gained an upset decision for local taxpayers in the late rounds by a bewildering display of parliamentary footwork that opened the way for a heavy flurry of telling votes that turned the decision in the taxpayers' favor.

Local officials have just reversed that decision by the Special Town Meeting - to put a property tax referendum question on the local ballot in March - but this minor setback can still be overcome as the local round robin property tax control tourney continues with the final elimination bout in this series scheduled for March 6, 1971.

Local voters are urged to register their support in the polling booths with a referendum write-in yes vote for a limited property tax rate and a vote for Curran for Assessor on Saturday - March 6, 1971.

Volkswagen the tentmaker.

Although Omar the tentmaker could make a nice tent, he was no help if you wanted to take it somewhere. For that you had to see your local camel dealer.

There are other tentmakers now, thank Allah.

Every tent* Volkswagen makes comes with an attachment that will take you and the tent anywhere: a Volkswagen.

Giving you about 23 miles for a gallon of gas, the VW Camptobile is a lot cheaper to feed than a camel. And a great deal more comfortable.

It has a full-length double bed, a child's bed, a child's hammock and a cot. As well as closets, curtains, and a reading lamp.

It even boasts a kitchenette. Complete with a cupboard, a dining table, an icebox and a sink.

Of course, cozy as living quarters are on the inside of the VW Camptobile, it's good to know you can always set up living quarters on the outside.

As Omar used to say... a man's home is his tent.

ENGINE RUNNING TOO COOL?

During winter months, slow engine warmup or little better than lukewarm engine output on the road is always a common complaint. This problem can produce much more serious effects than chilly passengers.

Gas mileage is bound to suffer because the automatic choke will enrich the fuel mixture for longer periods. Engine oil dilution will be increased, sludge and corrosion formation will be stepped up, and the crankcase ventilating system will be subject to clogging - particularly in cars that roll up most of their mileage via short-trip, stop-and-go driving.

What makes an engine run too cool? Usually, it's because of a defective or low-temperature thermostat or one that was removed during the summer and never replaced. If slow warmup is the prime problem, then a sticking manifold heat valve should come under suspicion.

Your car responds best with tender, loving care. We specialize in TLC at FLATLEY'S SERVICE STATION, 93 Broadway, Arlington. Full line of Shell products. General tires. Haul truck and trailer rentals and 24-hour towing service. You can depend on FLATLEY'S for the best in car care and repair. Our customers are happy customers and we're proud of that. David C. Buck Will Seek Seat On School Committee

David C. Buck of 123 Wright st. has announced his candidacy for one of the three school committee seats to be chosen in the March 6th election.

Buck, a manager in the Toiletries Division of the Gillette Company, is a graduate of the Arlington school system. He earned his bachelor's degree at the Boston University College of Business Administration, and is currently studying towards his master's degree from Northeastern University.

Long active in Arlington civic affairs, David Buck has served as a town meeting member in precinct 14 for several years. He has also served as an elected member of the Democratic Town Committee. Buck is also a past Grand Knight of Arlington Council 109 Knights of Columbus, a charter member and former director of the Arlington Jaycees, as well as an incorporator of the Arlington Teen Center.

In announcing his candidacy for a seat on the Arlington School Committee, Buck reviewed his qualifications and then focused on the reasons for his candidacy.

"Today, the costs of public education have skyrocketed to the point where about 50% of every real estate tax dollar goes to our schools. As we spend more and more on education, the increased need for careful scrutiny and accountability become readily apparent. As a member of the school committee, I would bring to that body my business training and experience, as well as a commitment to excellence in education. I want to have an Arlington school system that rates among the best, but I want the best at the lowest possible price."

Buck added: "In the days and weeks ahead, I will do everything I can to bring my candidacy to the home of every voter in every precinct of Arlington. I believe that Arlington voters are increasingly concerned about the educational process in our town."

My campaign will focus on four issues:

1. The need to better program our school expenses and set financial guidelines within which our educational system would develop.
2. The need to develop new and progressive methods for measuring the effectiveness of teachers and administrators within the Arlington Educational Committee.
3. The need to develop a research and development capacity within the community to supply the school committee with a new input of ideas dealing with the improvement of our educational system.

4. The need to introduce parents as an integral part of the educational process. We must narrow the gap between the home and the school so that both home and schools can complement each other since they are both a part of the learning process.

"I will be responsive and I will make every effort, if elected, to see that collectively the School Committee is responsive to the economic and educational character of the town of Arlington."

Parent Groups For Drug Talk Meet This Week

Nine parent discussion groups organized by the Adult Education Subcommittee of the Arlington Drug Study Committee are starting this week. They will be led by leaders trained by a group of local psychiatrists in a program led by the committee.

The purpose of the groups is to help members educate themselves on the drug problem and develop ways in which they can deal with it. A goal of the groups is to learn how to open discussion with one's children.

A new leadership training program will start soon. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Alan Adolph, Mount Vernon st.; Mrs. Stanley Cath, Brunswick rd.; or Mrs. Roger La Fontaine, Valentine st.

Pollution Topic Of Sat. Meeting

St. Stephen's Armenian Church Couples Club will sponsor a ecological panel discussion entitled "Desecration of Spaceship Earth." This program on air and water pollution will be held Saturday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m. in the Church Auditorium, Bigelow avenue, Watertown.

Panel members will include John W. Putnam, Dr. Aram Tomasian, and Vahan Basmajian. Putnam is founder and Executive Director of Boston Environment, Inc. Dr. Tomasian is Director of the Pulmonary Function Laboratory, Mount Auburn Hospital. He will speak on the relationship between pollution and pulmonary diseases. Basmajian is President of Megatech Corporation. He will display a non-polluting internal combustion engine.

Dr. Varant Hagopian of Lexington will be panel moderator that evening. Corresponding secretary of the Couples Club is Mrs. Margaret Vartanian.

Registration At St. James Next Thursday

Enrollment for students who will enter the first grade at St. James School in September, 1971, will be held on Thursday, Jan. 28, in the school office. Registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Children must be six years of age before Jan. 1, 1972, in order to register. Registrations will also be taken at this time for all other grades. Parents are asked to bring birth certificates, baptismal certificates and vaccination certificates.

The faculty for the 1971-72 academic year will consist of eight Religious of Christian Education and four lay teachers.

Historical Society

Wilbur D. Raymond, who has been curator of the Somerville Historical Society for more than 40 years, will be guest speaker at the Arlington Historical Society meeting Tuesday, Jan. 26 at 8 p.m. at Pleasant Street Congregational Church.

Robert Carr Is Manager For Hendrigan

Francis H. Hendrigan, candidate for Assessor, has announced the appointment of Robert H. Carr, Jr. of 86 Marathon st. as his campaign manager.

Carr, who is 24 years of age and married to the former Sandra Egan, has a daughter, Kelly, seven months. He is a life-long resident of Arlington and has been known for his hockey feats at Arlington High School and Harvard College.

In addition to the many hockey honors gained at Arlington High, while playing for Harvard he was named to the All Ivy League and All East Teams and received the Most Valuable Player Award. After graduating from Harvard, Carr received a National Science Foundation grant to do graduate work in chemistry at Simmons College.

In accepting the chairmanship of Hendrigan's campaign, Carr said that he was most happy to work for his election, stating that "... Mr. Hendrigan is the type of dedicated and capable individual needed for public service in our troubled times."

He further added that he has always had great admiration for Hendrigan because of his interest in the civic affairs of Arlington and, in particular, for his outstanding efforts in youth work over a period of many years.

Carr invites any one who wishes to join with him in seeking the election of Hendrigan to contact him at his home.

Park West Students Look For Chores

Park West students are looking for people who could use their help for public service work, and also are looking for businessmen who will allow students to visit on Career Day in April.

The students would like to do errands for shut-ins, read to bedridden and do light household chores, but they have been having trouble finding people who would like their help.

On Career Day each student would like to be able to spend the day with workers in different businesses seeing what they do on the job.

Anyone interested in having student help or in accepting a student on Career Day is asked to call Mrs. Elisabeth Hoyt, Park West Program chairman, at the School Department. ☐

Rent Control Act Is Meeting Topic Wednesday Night

"Should We Have a Rent Control Act in Arlington?"

What are the pros and cons of adopting the 1970 Massachusetts rent control enabling act?

Several experts with differing views will explore the issue Wednesday, Jan. 27, at 8 p.m. at the Edith Fox Branch Library, 175 Mass. ave., at a public meeting sponsored by the Citizens Committee on Housing and the Arlington League of Women Voters.

Berman, past president, of the Rental Housing Association of the Boston Real Estate Board; and Charles Laverty, realtor and Chairman of the Cambridge Board of Assessors, a former Arlington resident.

The discussion will be moderated by William M. Capron of Arlington, Associate Dean of the

Roger W. Stern
